Description:

The Calverton BPO Elks Property is a 1½-story, 3-bay side gable cottage on the southwest side of Sandy Spring Road in Burtonsville, Montgomery County. Constructed in 1927, the building has a rear addition and exhibits features of the bungalow style.

The structure has an asphalt shingle, side gable roof, with a shed dormer, and an exterior chimney on the southwest facade. It is of concrete masonry construction with brick veneer, and it has a concrete masonry foundation. The windows are double-hung wood sash. The house has an integrated, extended roof porch on the north elevation. The porch is enclosed with brick and has five arched openings: three on the northeast facade and one each on the northwest and southeast facade. The porch has a concrete floor and concrete steps.

The Burtonsville Elks Lodge is located on this property. The Lodge is a concrete masonry meeting house with a gambrel roof covered with asphalt shingles. The Lodge was constructed in 1976, and it is located immediately southwest of the house.

There is also an outbuilding associated with the property. This outbuilding is a shed with a standing seam metal, shed roof. Constructed circa 1975, it is of wood frame construction. The structure is located south of the house and southeast of the Elks Lodge.

The property is located on the south side of Sandy Spring Road, with residential property to the east, south and west. There are a few old trees, and the property is level. The property's setting is suburban, with heavily travelled Sandy Spring Road approximately 150 feet to the northeast.
